PROFAB HISTORY

PROFAB was created in 2013 to better serve the industrial and commercial industries. The founder of PROFAB is a highly networked professional with an outstanding record of leading operations for oil and gas, wood forest products, mining, OSB, commercial and industrial construction. The founder listens to the internal and external clients to comprehensively define goals and risks before developing solutions. Involved in starting two large construction companies in the past, our founder has used those experiences to create a new company that eliminates all the failures that are happening in the industry today. From humble beginnings, core services were focused on the sawmill construction, maintenance, and fabrication. PROFAB has since grown to a multimillion corporation to accommodate the market demand, offering plant maintenance, module assembly and shop fabrication.
